Anderson--Liebert.

A charming wedding of two very popular young people took place in McDougall United church, Edmonton, yesterday (Wednesday, the 6th) when Miss Mildred Liebert, daughter of Mr and Mrs Geo. Liebert, became the bride of Mr Clarence Anderson, son of Mr Sam Anderson.

Rev W E Sieber, pastor of the United church at Stony Plain, officiated. The bride was attended by her sister Miss Olive Liebert; the groomsmen being Mr Herb. Wolfe.

Hasse--Savard.

On Tuesday, Nov. 28th, a pretty wedding was solemnized at St Teresa's Church, in Carvel, when Elsie, daughter of Mr and Mrs Moses Savard, became the bride of Frank Hasse, son of Mr and Mrs Louis Hasse.

The ceremony was performed by Rev Father Keenan, pastor of the Mission. A large congregation of relatives and neighbors was present for the happy occasion.

Unterschnetz--Bauer.

On Tuesday the 21st day of November at the Brightbank Lutheran Church (Missouri Synod) Miss Lydia Bauer, daughter of Mr and Mrs J Bauer, became the bride of Mr John Unterschnetz, of the Comet district, son of Mr and Mrs Valentine Unterschnetz. The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. Frye, the pastor. The couple have taken up their residence on the bridegroom's farm, Comet district. The elder Mr and Mrs Unterschnetz have taken up their residence in Stony Plain.

Hornshine Tests 91.4 P.C.

The makers of liquid refreshments located hereabouts got another free advertisement in Edmonton last week, as per the Bulletin, which says: "Ferdinand Horn who admits with pride that he has no peers as a moonshiner, paid a $200 fine Thursday on pleading guilty to a breach of the Inland Revenue Act; the alternative was four months in jail. Corp. Cameron, R.C.M.P. liquor squad man, told the court he had stopped Horn's car and searched it for liquor. 'I found 4 quarts of moonshine in the car and a bottle was on Horn's hip,' testified the officer. 'It tested 91.4 per cent overproof.'"

Pembina M. D. Wins Case.

Ruling that ample notification had been given following the impounding of 2 horses before the animals were sold, Judge Crawford last week dismissed with costs the claims of W Palmer and F Reidinger, Tomahawk farmers, for $230 against Pembina M. D. No. 552. Plaintiffs each claimed $115, representing the value of the animals impounded and sold.

Is This Progress?

Were it not for the occasional event of great significance, civilization would stagger on towards whatever goal it is heading, without making any being any the wiser, or the more acutely aware of its steady progression. World statesmen occasionally venture the prediction that another great war inevitably would wreck the civilization of today; and the statements of these prominent men would undoubtedly be taken at their face value, were it not for apocryphal manifestations of the dynamic basis which distinguishes western civilization. Other men of great civilization have no goal, no great achievement, no elements to its credit, in that it is not increasing and has not increased, the sum total of human happiness. But again, some event hits the front pages of the daily newspapers indicating its triumphant march-somewhere, which completely confounds Casandra-like prophets and claimants of stagnation.

The events which have called forth this opening paragraph are, of course, those which occurred recently in the great and glorious State of California. There, two confessed kidnappers were summarily lynched by an irate, small-town, crowd which, instead of being punished for usurping the functions of the state itself, are exonerated and even lauded by the chief dignity of that state. In fact, Governor Rolph was so far from taking punitive measures against the crowd which (perhaps) saved his kinsman a job, that he declared to the press his wish that he had the power to release all kidnappers held in California State prisons to the tender mercies of the same mob. It might, he added, act as a deterrent to kidnappers elsewhere in the United States. Thus civilization marches.

Possibly there is truth in his contention. It is equally true, however, that vigorous action of the law is not the only method by which it would serve the selfsame purpose and achieve as good results. If his commendation is to mean that lynch law can be invoked with impunity in the warfare against kidnapping, it might be urged that the cure is as bad as the disease. In fact, the cure was itself a disease which it took more than half a century of repression to eradicate. Governor Rolph is dabbling in a strange homeopathy, perhaps he would be employed better in tightening up the law and its enforcement, through the police and the courts, than thus encouraging revival of a discredited atavism. That law-breakers should lynch law-breakers is, in effect, a protest against the law's delays and not the inefficiency of a law-enforcing machinery. Perhaps then, Governor Rolph should begin the clean-up against kidnappers nearer his own office.

They have a new premier in France. M. Chautemps is, in fact, the 101st premier France has had in some 63 years. Apparently the motto over the door of the office reserved for the chief executive in France is "Here today, gone tomorrow."

Old L'Espresso Sterns it was who said: "They do things better in France." It would be hard to persuade those accustomed to the more staid and dignified British process of placing and replacing Prime Ministers, to agree with this sweeping statement. Changes in the French cabinet are made without involving the machinery of an election. They just change—that is all. A prime minister comes, and collects a cabinet around him, not of those adhering to his own political party even sharing his political faith. He selects such individuals as appear to him to have sufficient of a loyal following among their particular groups as to ensure him a majority of the deputies. The parliament runs its course. Ministers change without consulting their platform to the people. The system removes government from the people, and tends inevitably to place the real authority in the higher class of permanent officials of the civil service. Responsible government, as Canadians know it, is impossible under such a system, while the bourgeoisie that invariably precedes the formation of a French cabinet injects a pork-barrel element into the political arena which is repugnant to western minds.

Shipment Arrived In First Class Condition

British Firm Well Satisfied With Honey From Saskatchewan

Saskatchewan honey arrived in Great Britain in first class condition.

The honey, a carload shipment, was sent to Britain on the S.S. Brandenburg via the Hudson Bay, to British importing firms.

R. W. Pugh, provincial apiarist, states that W. Waldron, Saskatchewan markets representative in England, and Mr. Fitch, of the Canadian publicity department, made a personal inspection of the honey at the London dock. They write that the honey landed in first class condition, the cartons being clean and the honey in a uniformly good state.

The British importing firm to which the honey shipment was consigned, writes as follows: "We are exceedingly satisfied as the honey has been delivered in excellent condition and the quality is first class."

Trying Out New Uniforms

Japanese Soldiers To Report On Silk And Wool Cloth

Official amusement expressed by the Japanese War Office over the report that Japanese soldiers were to be provided for the soldiers, has apparently been retracted. Experimental uniforms have now been issued to some battalions. Some of the uniforms are made entirely of silk, but most of the cloth is a mixture of wool and raw silk. The silk-clad soldiers will be asked what they think of the new uniforms and especially in preserving warmth, effects of rain and snow on them, cost of washing and repairing.

If going up stairs, climbing hills, walking too far, if the least exertion causes you to stop to get your breath, or if you have weak, sinking feelings, it is time you stop to think as to the cause of your trouble.

What you should do is take a course of Milburn's H. & N. Pills. They tone up and strengthen the vital organs so as to prevent any harmful attacks of disease.

WORK IS EASIER NOW FAT HAS GONE

"I was so stout about 11 months ago," a woman writes, "that I became a burden to myself. Then muscular rheumatism set into my joints, and I had to go on sticks for some time. Then I started to take Kruschen Salts, and I am overjoyed with the results I have derived from them. Honestly, I had no idea one could feel so different in such a short time. Since taking Kruschen, I have lost nearly 28 lbs. of superfluous fat. I can now run about as well as when I was 20, cook, work, and attend to seven growing children." (Mrs.) G. H. Unlike certain drastic drugs, Kruschen does not aim to reduce by rushing food through the body; its action is "not" confined to a single part of the system. It has a tonic influence upon every organ of elimination, every gland, every nerve, every vein. Gently, but surely, it rids the system of all fat-forming refuse, of all poisons and harmful acids which give rise to rheumatism, digestive disorders, and many other ills.

Arctic Cold At Equator

Instruments Register Twenty Degrees Lower At Similar Altitude

If you were looking for a colder place than the north pole, you certainly would not go to the equator to find it, would you? As contrary to fact as the statement may seem to be, unless you did this very thing your quest would end in disappointment. Meteorologists have found that it is actually colder at the equator than it is at the north pole. For proof of this scientists journeyed to the tropics and from a position on the equator, they sent up sounding balloons equipped with meteorological instruments. At heights six or seven miles above the equator the instruments registered a temperature which was 20 degrees over the Arctic regions. As an explanation of this phenomenon it is suggested that the re-radiation of heat from the surface of the earth at the equator is retarded by humid air.

Our Best Pleasures

Six Rules By Which They May Be Tested

The best pleasures are first, the simplest—pleasures which require least machinery, least effort on the part of others; second, the least expensive; third, the most accessible; fourth, those that can be most widely shared; fifth, those that can be most often repeated without doing harm to body, mind, or soul; sixth, those that call into action the highest qualities of life. The best pleasures are what we might call top-floor pleasures; that is, the pleasures of mind and spirit. If we test our pleasures by such laws as these, they will stand out clearly from the rest; to nature, and not to artificial things; to wholesome exercise, and not just to idle entertainment; to music, friendship, and books rather than to excitement and things that are artificial.

Procedure To Be Abolished

No More Advance Information About Grants To Fairs

The Federal Department of Agriculture's established procedure of informing fair and exhibition managers well in advance the amount of the government grant they will probably receive, is to be abolished this year.

Delegates to the Canadian Association of Fairs and Exhibitions were told at their last annual meeting that there will be no advance information this year. George B. Rothwell, head of the livestock division of the department of agriculture, made the announcement. He said the department's estimates would be subject to revision by the government, even if the House passed them.

Faithful To Old Tradition

South African Dutch Still Greatest Bible-Reading Race

Worthy descendant of the world's greatest Bible-reading race, the South African Dutch, are proving faithful to the old-time tradition. It was expected that the new Afrikaans Bible would be a best seller, and a first edition of 100,000 copies were ordered by the British and Foreign Bible Society. But so heavy has been the demand that a cable has been sent instructing the printers to increase the edition to 150,000 copies.

Lord Londsdale's Model Estate

Every Small Detail of Management Watched By Owner

Lord Londsdale, in addition to his many-sided sporting interests, is chairman of a publishing firm. He has wonderful way with animals—in particular with horses and dogs and birds. At night, when at Lower each privileged dog comes into the dining-room, goes sedately to its own particular corner, and there settles quietly with one eye fixed watchfully on Lord Londsdale's movements. The stables would give any maker of films a mass of material no other establishment of these days could offer, says the Overseas Mail. They are magnificently run in the old-fashioned English manner—à la, indeed, the whole house is—without any regard to the modern love of informality and speed. Lord Londsdale has kept all his old coaches and carriages—in themselves a small museum which will interest future generations. All of them are painted the brilliant yellow which makes his cars so recognizable at race meetings today. And he himself watches every small detail of the estate's management—even to the laying out of the gardens, which was done to his particular instructions; each is of a different character, Italian, French, and so on.

Air Fields Across Canada

Within A Year Stations Will Be Ready For Service

A year from now air fields across Canada will be ready for a trans-Canada air service, Brigadier J. Linday Gordon, commanding officer of M.D. 12, told the Young Men's Board of Trade at Regina.

Single unemployed, Brigadier Gordon pointed out, were doing work that would prove a boon to the future of aviation in Canada. The great obstacle to a trans-Canada route in the past, the northwestern part of Ontario, was the scene of camps for the preparation of airports.

By next fall Canada would have ground facilities to permit the establishment of an air line from Halifax to Vancouver, Brigadier Gordon pointed out. This would lie on the shortest route from Europe to Asia. The Pan-American airways had already received concessions on a portion of the route, which would have a terminus in Newfoundland.

He spoke of the possibility of competing with the United States in Oriental air shipments, although, he said, passenger traffic was so small in Canada as not to merit the operation of an air line simply for passenger purposes.

Foreclosure Proceedings

Large Tracts Of Land In Manitoba and Saskatchewan Are Involved

Foreclosure proceedings involving mortgage debentures in excess of $850,000 and second mortgage debentures of $713,000 on large tracts of land in Saskatchewan and Manitoba settled during the past eight years by Mennoites, have been taken in Saskatchewan courts. An order made recently arrears must be paid by October 3, 1934, or foreclosure will become absolute.

The debenture bonds first issued were sold to large investors in Canada while the second issue bonds were sold mainly to Mennoites already settled in Canada and the United States. The company promoting the settlements was the Intercontinental Company, The National Trust Company have named trustees for the first mortgage debenture holders.

The decision of the court does not affect the position of the numerous settlers.

It Happens Frequently

People Travelling In Europe Forget

Most Foreigners Speak English

An Englishman who knew no language but his own had lost his way in Rome. In his perplexity it occurred to him to write the name of his hotel in large letters on his card and hand it to the first benign-looking individual he met.

An Italian thus accosted turned, and with the charming manners of his race, accompanied the perturbed Englishman for about 20 minutes in silence until they reached the hotel designated. Then the tourist poured out voluble thanks in the only language at his command.

The Italian looked at him in amazement, then remarked in perfect English: "I thought you were deaf and dumb!"

BUCKLEY'S Gives You Far More For Your Money

Buckley's goes many times as far as ordinary cheap remedies, because it can be diluted with water without losing its marvellous healing and soothing qualities, and because only a few drops are needed to put the most stubborn cough or cold out of business. Even one sip of Buckley's gives unmistakable relief.

That's why people say, "It's like a flask of life."

No drugs—no sweet sticky syrup—but a genuine food, a tonic, a cough-solvent and soothes. Play safe. Refuse substitutes. Buckley's is sold everywhere.

COOKERY PANFICHMENT Appleford PAPER PRODUCTS WASHINGTON, ONTARIO

Unique Banquet Held At Royal Winter Fair When Menu Featured All Canadian Products

Several hundred farmers from all parts of Canada were present at a banquet during the Royal Winter Fair, held in Toronto, November 22 to 30, at which every item on the menu was the product of, or nearly all of them, farm products.

There were oysters from Prince Edward Island, and the shell fish from there are incomparable. Alberta provided the sugar, produced from sugar beets grown at Raymond near 14th bridge, British Columbia sent oysters and fruit, and Ontario also provided fruits and other edibles. The bread was made from flour from Saskatchewan wheat. The turkeys came from Manitoba and cranberries for the accompanying sauce were New Brunswick contribution.

Neither ice nor coffee was served at this banquet, the beverages being limited to apple cider from Nova Scotia, grape juice from Ontario, and Canadian-made ginger ale. The cauliflower came from Quebec, potatoes from New Brunswick, and the pumpkin pie from Ontario. The Canadian Government Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, supplied the dress, and Ontario and British Columbia furnished the nuts.

Although Canada is a great exporter of food products, she imports large quantities of foodstuffs, particularly seasonable fruits and vegetables, much of which come from the United States.

This All-Canadian banquet a feature of the Royal Winter Fair, is just a little demonstration that Canada can feed herself if necessary and suffer little, if any from lack of variety or quality.—Canada Week By Week.

Swiss Watch Trade Menaced

Japanese Selling Timepieces In Geneva The Found

"Why buy one watch? Buy a pound of watches."

This has become the slogan of Japanese dumpers on the Swiss watch market.

Watches "made in Japan" are selling in the Jura district of Geneva for 18 Swiss francs a pound—and no local manufacturer can compete with them.

That delicate timepieces should be sold by the weight like common nails or tacks has stunned the big watchmen of Switzerland.

An urgent emergency measure based on eighteenth century economic reasoning has been hurriedly put into force to protect the age-old Swiss trade.

All watch machinery exported from the country is taxed a prohibitive export duty of 9,000 Swiss francs, according to the measure.

This tax is based on the theory that the only way to beat competition is to prevent it. "Keep the watch machinery in the country and there will be no foreign competition," says the Swiss Government.

But the leading manufacturers are not satisfied and are asking for stronger protective measures. They demand a quota system be applied to all foreign watches.

England Getting Fresh Chickens From Canada

Former Shipments Were All Confined To Cold Storage Supplies

Fresh Canadian chickens are now being shipped to Britain for the first time.

The shipments are made possible by recent tariff changes in Great Britain which admit empire poultry duty free while foreign poultry must pay three pence per pound duty, which is much higher than the former rate of 10 per cent. ad valorem.

Formerly, Canadian shipments of poultry largely were confined to cold storage supplies. The four leading suppliers of poultry for the British market were Hungary, Irish Free State, Serbia and France, while Canada came sixth.

Railway carloadings in Germany are showing a marked increase.

Canada comprises 37 per cent. of the total area of the British Empire.

Printing Crime News

Publicity Is Punishment Which Many Law Breakers Fear

Dr. S. Parkes Osmond, noted lecturer and preacher, presented an interesting thought upon the publication of crime news in a recent speech. He said: "It is not the publicity which should distress us, but the deeds that ought to be done."

The sheep population of the province grew from 510,000 in 1927 to 833,700 in 1932. The value of sheep per head in 1932 dropped to its lowest level in more than 30 years.

J. F. Andrew, assistant deputy Minister of Agriculture, is the authority for the statement that there is a definite place for the small farm flock on northern and central Alberta farms, each flock tending to make the farm more of a self-contained unit.

Mr. Andrew commented on the steady increase of farm flocks in northern and central Alberta, one indication of the northward drift of farm population. Not many years ago, a flock was something of a rarity except in the southern part of the province.

Europe And England Realize Gloom Not Attractive To Tourists

Good news for tourists is the announcement that the primordial gloom of European railway stations is to be dispelled by a brightening-up process.

The cold, dank atmospheres of stations in Britain, the railways realize, probably has done more than anything else—next to bad hotels—to keep foreign visitors from returning. By reducing their fares recently, they also found that Englishmen were ready to travel by rail instead of motor cars if conditions could be made slightly more attractive.

Meanwhile, water taxis have begun appearing on the Thames to provide the commuter a novel and pleasant way of going to the office. Until now the Thames alone has escaped the traffic congestion common to London's narrow streets.

Fall Rye Acreage Less

Fall rye acreage in Saskatchewan in 1933 shows quite a decrease from the figures for 1932. In 1932 there were 264,000 acres of this grain seeded in Saskatchewan, and this fall the acreage is given as 240,000. The total decrease in Canada, 50,300 acres. Saskatchewan shows the greatest decrease of all provinces.

OR COLLAR DRESS

Paris has put all kinds of interest in sleeves this season.

Today's model favours two of the new ideas to give shoulder height. Make it with sleeves with points striking an upward line at the shoulders or with perky epaulettes as in the small diagram.

You'll like its buttoned wrapped collar. It gives it tailored chic and is decidedly stunning.

Carry it out in wool jersey, tweed, faille crepe silk, silk and synthetic mixtures, etc.

You can make it in about two hours. Style No. 491 is designed for sizes 14, 16, 18, 20 years, 36, 38 and 40 inches.

Size 16 requires 2 1/2 yards 54-inch material. Price of pattern 20 cents in stamps or coin (coin is preferred). Wrap coin carefully.

Raising More Sheep

Marked Increase In Number On Alberta Farms

Striding evidence of the decided swing to mixed farming is the marked increase in the number of sheep on central and northern Alberta farms. Small farm flocks continue to climb and, according to authorities, there is a wide market for Alberta wool in England and elsewhere.

The price of wool has increased more than 100 per cent. over last year.

In the 1931 census, 72,159 farms in Alberta reported the possession of sheep, compared to 59,356 farms in 1926.

The sheep population of the province grew from 510,000 in 1927 to 833,700 in 1932. The value of sheep per head in 1932 dropped to its lowest level in more than 30 years.

Byrd Expedition Using Oil-Finding Machine

To Determine Whether Land Or Water Lies Under Ice Cap

Daily directions from Tulsa, oil capital of the United States, will be waited by short wave radio to the Byrd Antarctic exploration party as it tests to determine thickness of ice that blankets the Antarctic continent. The testing will be done with seismicographic equipment that records the paths and deflection of sound waves beneath the surface of the ice when explosives are discharged. It will determine whether water or solid soil is beneath the ice.

The equipment, used in explorations for oil in the United States, was developed by a Tulsa firm, and it is this firm that will give the radio directions.

The station is being assembled now and will be ready for use January 1, 1934, when the Byrd party is expected to start actual work in the Antarctic. Daily reports of progress will be received, all the messages being in code.

The equipment was developed by the Seismographic Service Corp.

Advice For Dentists

Keep Patient's Mind Occupied In Secret Of Painless Work

Dental "small talk," that constant line of chatter with which the practitioner tries to keep the patient's mind off the buzz of drills and the yank of forceps, now is glorified under the name of applied psychology.

Delegates to the annual convention of the Western Pennsylvania Odontological Society extracted that bit of wisdom from an address by Dr. C. A. Walzner, of the University of Pittsburgh.

"A great many people go to a dentist believing they are in acute pain. They really are not—but there's no reason to tell them so. Just treat them as if they were in pain for a while and then, when you say, 'Now, that doesn't hurt a bit, does it?' they'll think they feel fine."

Of course, if the patient is really in pain—well!

Early Settlers

Asiatic peoples were crossing the Bering Straits into Alaska and down to British Columbia and western Canada as late as 1300 A.D. Dr. Marcus Barber told the Royal Canadian Institute, recently, in the course of an address on the "Early Peopling of Canada."

"Basic English," a simplification of the English tongue intended to provide a workable solution to the language communications problems of the world, has been launched by the Orthological Institute of Cambridge, England.

Failure of many attempts to provide an "invented" language that could be used throughout the world as a means of communication between the people of all nations who speak 1,500 living languages led to the effort to adapt the English tongue for the purpose.

The new form of English, introduced to Canada at the Institute of Public Relations Conference at Banff, in August, contains only 550 words, 600 of them nouns, 150 adjectives, 16 verbs or names of operators and the rest adverbs, prepositions or names of directions.

These, in addition to numbers, weights and measures, the calendar and such words as club, radio and telegram, already internationalized, do the work of 500,000 words of English at a level of ordinary communications.

English was chosen for the new medium because it is the natural or administrative language of 500,000,000 people, and because no other language is susceptible to the same kind of simplification. With no inflections and analytic in structure it is not only closer to the language habits of many Orientals but, for the same reason, is easier to learn.

The interest with which persons in all parts of the earth have turned to this form of English (in which this paragraph is written) gives its backers the belief that it may be put to a great number of uses. Letters have come into the Orthological Institute in Cambridge by the thousands from all parts of Europe, the Far East and the United States. Schools in 15 states on the American Pacific Coast are interested in it as a way of helping the young Chinese and Japanese to a good knowledge of English. In China, where English is the second language, there is much interest in it, and Japanese teachers are about to put it in their schools.

Widely differentiated uses of a word are eliminated in the new medium, such as "for" in the sense of "because," "that" in the sense of a relative pronoun, or "but" as part of a horse's harness. It makes use of the fact almost all verbs can be analyzed into one of a few fundamental operations in combination with a directive. The simplest combinations of these equivalents for 2,000 common verbs, such as "put in" for "insert," "go up" for "climb," "take out" for "extricate," and "go against a law" for "break a law."

In the same way, by descriptive analysis, many names of things are reduced to telescopic terms. A "journalist" becomes "a newspaperman," and a "desk" a "writing table."

Hurricanes Above The Earth

Terrific Storms Observed At Height Of Sixty Miles

That terrific storms rage sixty miles above the earth is the report of Dr. Charles F. Oliver, of the University of Pennsylvania. Some of these hurricanes, travelling at 150 miles an hour, blow at an angle of 55 degrees at a speed great enough to draw a balloon upward at twice express train speed. Three high-speed winds were observed and measured with the aid of meteor "trains," according to Dr. Oliver. They were caught while fourteen stations between New York and Fredericksburg, Virginia, were charting the flight of the Leominster. One of these trains was watched for several minutes while it floated between fifty and sixty miles up. Several stations checked its motion accurately. The wind drove the train upward at an angle of 55 degrees and a speed of 143 miles an hour.

Sky Was Not Red

The Soviet flight to the stratosphere that beltered Prof. Piccard's record was a deep disappointment to Moscow, states The Argonaut. The sky at eleven miles was a deep, a very soft, purple—not red.

WORLD HAPPENINGS
BRIEFLY TOLD

Temperance will be included in the study course of 500,000 Minnesota public school pupils beginning next September.

The "Friendship" peace pact between Yugoslavia and Turkey was signed recently by emissaries of both countries.

Upward of $100,000,000 has been loaned farmers by the United States farm credit administration since March to help alleviate mortgage troubles of agriculturists.

"There can be no question of an all-Irish parliament," declared Viscount Craigavon, premier of Ulster, Africa, in the Irish parliament, in a statement two days before polling in the northern Ireland general election.

Hon. C. H. Cahan, secretary of state in the Dominion cabinet, recently left Montreal for Boston, where he will board the "Lady Hawkins" for a holiday cruise through the West Indies and to British Guiana.

After entertaining thousands of Century of Progress visitors with poisonous snakes, Haji Mohamed, 63, returned to his native Tunis, Africa, only to be fatally bitten by one of the reptiles.

The American Library Association, which includes members in Canada as well as the United States, has selected Montreal for the 50th annual convention. It is announced. The convention will be held in June, 1934.

The tariff board has ruled that roasting peanuts is a manufacturing process and therefore subject to sales tax. The board turned down an appeal made recently by the Canadian Fruit and Vegetable Association for a contrary ruling.

Canadian oats possessed special keeping qualities and were therefore purchased by the war office for the reserve supply depots. Captain A. Duff-Cooper, financial secretary to the war office, explained in answer to a question in the British House of Commons.

Wins Poultry Prizes

Dick Irvin, Famous Hockey Player Is Poultry Fancier

Dick Irvin, coach of the Toronto Maple Leafs hockey team, knows how to turn out smart poultry as well as smart hockey players. He has won the best Wyandotte cockerel at the Royal Winter Fair and captured sixth and seventh prizes with a hen and a pullet.

"This is the second time the well-known sportsman has walked off with honors for chickens at the Royal. He showed for the first time last year, and at that time won third and fourth prizes in Wyandottes. Mr. Irvin hails from Regina, and his win makes the first time this prize has been taken by the west."

There are others in the sports world who chase pucks in the winter and raise chickens, cows and horses in the summer. It was learned, Buzz Bell, of the Maple Leafs, Mr. Irvin said, has a ranch at Regina. The famous Boston Bruin hold-out, Eddie Shore, and the Cook Brothers of the New York Rangers are neighbors, as distances go in the west, of the Irvin ranch.

Mr. Irvin has been raising chickens for 22 years—ever since he demonstrated a preference for Regina over his native city, Hamilton.

He also raises racing pigeons and Great Danes.

"I'm coming back to get the Leghorn prize next year," he said.

A Hungry Population

The following is an estimate of what the London Zoo needs for food for the animals: Apples, 8 tons; grapes, 2 tons; currants, 10 cwt.; melons, 52 lbs.; oranges, 14,689; meat, many tons; egg yolks, 140 lbs.; eggs, 20,000; syrup, 201 lbs.; condensed milk, 18,000 lbs.; and 400 gallons; dates, 18 cwt.; nut, 15,000 lbs.; biscuits, 15 tons; honey, 51 lbs.; bread, 6 tons; vegetables, 30 tons; fish, 15 tons.

Prison Has Model Dairy
Surroundings Of Reformatory At Bakersfield, California, Are Attractive

Being a well-checked milkmaid in an Adamless Eden is no great attraction for any woman, ancient or modern, according to the theory of Sheriff Cas Waiser, of Kern County, California, himself a typical western sheriff and a first-class cowhand.

"They will get tired of it," commented Sheriff Waiser, on a visit to the new State Prison, for Women, which includes a model dairy. The sheriff's comment was prompted by the arrival of thirty additional women prisoners from San Quentin. The first contingent of 28 women arrived at the new institution last month. The prison will soon provide sanctuary for 145 women prisoners.

The model reformatory is in a secluded valley fifty miles east of Bakersfield in the mountains.

Each inmate has an attractive room, and each dormitory has a separate kitchen and dining room.

The group of buildings was erected at a cost of $500,000, on a 1,800-acre farm which the women will operate.

Recipes For This Week

(By Betty Barclay)

WASHINGTON PRUNE FARFAIT

2 cups cooked prunes.
1/4 cup sweetened condensed milk.
1/2 pint whipping cream.
2 oranges.
12 candied cherries.

Remove pits from prunes and cut into small pieces. Peel oranges, removing all white membrane, and cut oranges into small pieces. Cut eight cherries into small pieces, saving four to decorate for cream. Whip cream, and condensed milk, mix thoroughly, add whipped cream and mix again. Pour into refrigerator pan, decorate top with remaining sliced cherries, place in freezing unit and freeze three or four hours.

QUICK CABBAGE

1 1/2 quarts shredded cabbage.
3 cups milk.
1 cup cream or rich milk.
2 1/2 tablespoons butter.
2 1/2 tablespoons flour.
2 teaspoons sugar.
Salt and pepper.

Cook the cabbage for two minutes in the three cups of rich milk. Add the cup of cream or rich milk, the blended butter and flour, sugar, salt and pepper. Cook rapidly for three or four minutes. The result is a crisp vegetable, delicate in flavor and color.

To Protect The Foolish

New York Bans Sale Or Use Of Eyebrow And Eyelash Dyes

The sale or use of eyebrow and eyelash dyes containing harmful ingredients was banned in New York recently, as health authorities sought to curb the spread of eye maladies in the city.

Health Commissioner Shirley Wynne announced that the Board of Health had amended section 128 of the sanitary code to prohibit the manufacture, sale or use of dyes containing high percentages of aniline derivatives or silver nitrate.

PAUL IN CAESAREA

Golden Text: "Herein I also exercise myself to have a conscience void of offense toward God and men always."—Acts 24:16.

Lesson: Acts, Chapters 21, 26.

Devotional Reading: Psalm 21:1-8.

Explanations and Comments

Accused By Tertullus, 24:1-9.—Lydia, the Chief Captain, had charged Paul's accusers to appear against him before Felix. Within five days the high priest Annas with a deputation from the Sanhedrin arrived in Caesarea. Paul was summoned for trial.

Tertullus, the advocate whom the Jews had engaged, presented their case against him. After 10 days, expressing gratitude for his reforms, Tertullus accused "this pestiferous fellow" of three things: inciting disturbance amongst the Jews throughout the Roman Empire—an offense against the Roman law; being the leader of the sect of the Nazarenes—an offense against the law of Moses and the Roman law, since the latter protected the Jews in their worship; when Tertullus concluded his speech, the deputation of Jews emphatically endorsed all that he said.

Paul's defense, 24:10-21.—When Felix made a gesture signifying that he should make his defense, Paul with quiet dignity answered the charges that had been brought against him. He began in a courteous way, saying that he spoke with great confidence because Felix had judged his nation for some time and was well acquainted with the state of affairs. Contrast his courteous beginning with the fulsome flattery of the opening words of Tertullus.

Then Paul denied that he was a disturber of the public peace (the first charge, verse 5); it had been but twelve days since he came to Jerusalem for the opposite purpose of worshipping there; investigation could be made and no proof of his enemies' charge would be found.

That he belonged to the so-called sect of the Nazarenes Paul acknowledged, but he was not an apostate from the Jewish religion (the second charge, verse 5), for he served the same God and believed the law and the prophets. "The law and the prophets" stand for the Old Testament writings. Christianity, the Way, was not a new religion in Paul's mind, but a development of Judaism. "To believe the Bible is something more than to believe its letter and sometimes something different. It is to believe what God intended by the letter, if the Scriptures taught circumcision and other ceremonies, Paul knew their intent and their limitations. He knew and defined the object of the law (Galatians 3:24). He saw no antithesis between his teaching and that of Moses (Romans 3:31; Galatians 3:21).—James M. Stiefer.

He believed in the resurrection of the just and the unjust, as did the Jews before him, Paul claimed. Because of this belief, Paul strove to have a clear conscience toward God and toward men.

"I sat alone with my conscience" (the place where time had ceased, according to many former living in the land where the years increased, And I felt that I should have to answer the question it put to me. And to face those questions and answers In that dim eternity."

Officials Strong For Newspaper Advertising

Ide of Man Publicity Board Pleased With Results

Newspaper advertising has so well paid the Ide of Man this year that the official publicity board is asking the Manx Government for an additional sum of $7,500 for advertising next season to supplement the customary grant of $35,000 which legislature annually makes for this purpose.

Publicity board officials report they have never previously received so many applications for guides to the island in one year.

W. A. Clague, the secretary, said the efficiency of a judicious newspaper advertising campaign in attracting visitors had long been proved by his board. It was not just a matter of chance—the results could be counted upon.

A Real Bargain

Sandy Macpherson and Maggie, his wife, stopped in front of a restaurant window in which was hung a card bearing the words: "Luncheon From 12 to 2 p.m., 1s. 6d."

"We'll have our lunch here, Maggie," said Sandy. "Two hours' steady eating for a shilling and six pence is no 'sae bad'."

A Partner
For Discussion

Nations Cannot Dictate To Germany Says Sir John Simon

Sir John Simon, secretary for foreign affairs, told the House of Commons that Britain is resolved to do everything possible to make Germany, which withdrew from the disarmament conference at Geneva last month, a partner again in arms discussions.

Sir John said there could have been no procedure more calculated to "drive the iron into Germany's side" than to have told her that withdrawal from the conference made no difference—that the convention would be completed and then she be asked to sign on the dotted lines.

"Germany," said Sir John, "is not a target for denunciation; she is a partner for discussion."

He said the government already has taken steps to play its full part in endeavoring to promote diplomatic consultations.

Foreign secretary told the legislators:

"We have already made it plain to the French Government—unhappily that government fell last night, but I don't believe in this respect that the French policy will change—that if she saw her way to enter into closer communications with Berlin, they would have our complete good will in doing so."

The British Government, Sir John said, had communicated to Chancellor Hitler of Germany "That the whole of our influence would be used for the purpose of trying to bring about a spirit of negotiation and co-operative action instead of keeping Germany at arm's length."

"We also," said Sir John, "have communicated to Italy how well satisfied we were to learn she agrees with us in keeping the conference in being, and how satisfied we were that the present procedure, which Italy has been urging on us, was the correct procedure."

Souvenir Of The War

Only Thing One Englishman Had Was Leave Certificate

As the result of a chance encounter in Charing-Cross post office a week or two ago, I dimmed the other night with an old comrade of the war.

This gentleman, though he served as a private in the ranks of the same battalion as myself, was then, as he still is, a man of considerable wealth. He has a fine house in Mayfair, a very pleasant country place too, several cars, and a big staff of domestic servants, including a smart ex-serv. chauffeur. We had not met since going over the top together in 1918, on an occasion that landed both of us on a stretcher. After dinner the talk was naturally of old army days.

I asked my friend whether he had many souvenirs, in addition to some fifteen-year-old scars, of the Great Adventure. "Only that," he said, pointing with his finger at a small framed document on his smoke-room wall. It was a leave certificate, duly signed by an army M.O., vouching that my host was "free from vermin and scabies."—London Correspondent Ottawa Journal.

PASSING OF GENERAL SIR ARTHUR CURRIE

Montreal, Quebec.—Sir Arthur Currie, commander-in-chief of the Canadian corps in France, died here Nov. 30. He was 57 years old. Since 1920 he had been principal and vice-chancellor of McGill University. Death occurred at 2:30 a.m.

Sir Arthur was taken to hospital Nov. 7 suffering from blockage of a blood vessel in the mid-brain.

The famous soldier made an impressive last fight. Pneumonia developed Sunday to complicate his condition, however, and hope had to be abandoned.

Sir Arthur's distinction was chiefly due to his success as a soldier and a commander, but capacity for organization led to his reputation being further enhanced after he became head of McGill.

Arthur William Currie was born in Napperton, Middlesex County, Ont., Dec. 5, 1875. He went to the Pacific coast in 1894 and soon took an interest in military affairs in Victoria. He went overseas with the rank of brigadier-general as commander of the 2nd Canadian Infantry brigade. In September, 1915, he was appointed commander of the 1st Canadian division, which post he held until he became commander-in-chief of the Canadian corps.

Besides Lady Currie, Sir Arthur is survived by one son, Garner Ormsby Currie, a student at McGill, and one daughter, Mrs. A. T. Galt Durnford, wife of a well known architect here. Lady Currie was Lucy Sophia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Chaworth Chaworth-Musters, Nottingham, England.

In 1917, after the battle of Vimy, Sir Arthur became commander-in-chief and received his title K.C.M.G. He had received the first order of knighthood, Commander of the Bath, in 1915 following the second battle of Ypres.

The tragic victory of Passchendaele was won in November, 1917, and he organized the preparations for the 1918 offensive. On August 8, 1918, Sir Arthur led the Canadian corps—developed to a high state of efficiency—at the battle of Amiens and the victorious advance. The battle of the Canal du Nord, perhaps the most brilliant feat of arms in the war, was planned and carried out by the Canadian commander.

Rescue Plane Passengers

Air Hostess Shows Heroism When Plane Forced Down

Windsor, Ont.—Heroism of Miss Kathleen Smith, Chicago, air hostess, helped the rescue of nine passengers and two pilots of a Detroit-bound American Alouette biplane which crashed through the ice on Lake St. Clair after being forced down by engine trouble. Standing in water up to her neck, Miss Smith assisted the passengers to climb onto the wings of the plane, where they remained until rescuers arrived.

Passengers were loud in their praise of Miss Smith, who had been with the company only six weeks, and Pilot Smith for the careful way in which he "panicked" his machine in landing.

Ice retarded rescuers who hastened to the scene. It was necessary to break a channel to the stranded plane and for about 20 minutes the passengers and crew watched the battle with the ice until the boats reached the side of the plane. Thoroughly chilled and most of them drenched, the 12 were rushed to a cottage near the river side and given attention. No one was hurt in any way.

Limit On Dumping Duty

Ottawa, Ont.—An order was issued by the Department of National Revenue late Wednesday that Canada would not impose a dumping duty to offset depreciated currencies of foreign countries unless the foreign currency was at a discount of over five per cent in relation to the Canadian dollar. This will have a far-reaching effect in connection with importations from the United States.

Market For Liquors

United States To Seek Exchange Of Commodities Abroad
Washington.—The United States will give Canada and other countries a market for their liquors in exchange for a place to sell surplus farm and industrial products.

Such reciprocal trade agreements are now in process of negotiation with several countries.

Government officials made this known at a hearing on a code for importers that would give the federal alcohol control administration authority to limit the volume and origin of wine and spirits imports on a quota basis.

Hastening the administration's plan to be in complete control of the liquor situation December 5, the repeal date—President Roosevelt—at Warm Springs named the five members of the federal alcohol control administration that will supervise the industry until congress can enact permanent legislation.

Disclosure of the government's intention to barter with foreign liquor exporting countries to lower their trade barriers to United States products was made by Mordecai Ezekiel, economic adviser to Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace, in testifying at the importers' code hearing.

Although he declined to say with what countries the government was discussing the proposition, Ezekiel said France, Germany and Italy were the largest wine exporting nations and that these had imposed more restrictions against United States farm products than most countries.

Investigate Lynching

Governor Of Missouri Says There Was No Investigation

St. Joseph, Mo.—At the direction of Governor Guy B. Park, who declared there was "no investigation" for the mob's action, a state investigation was begun here in an attempt to fix a responsibility for the lynching of Scott Warner, 19-year-old negro, accused of assaulting a young white woman.

William Sawyer, assistant attorney general, was sent here from Jefferson City to conduct the inquiry.

"If the responsibility for the lynching can be fixed," said attorney-general Roy McKittrick, "this office will assist and aid in the prosecution."

Governor Park, who ordered out a National Guard tank company in a vain attempt to save the negro from the mob of 8,000 which stormed the county jail and forced Sheriff Otto Thelen to surrender Warner, said in a statement Wednesday:

"Mob violence, whether in punishment of crime or in attempt to obtain alleged civil rights, is always wrong and destructive of good government. To condone such an offense is to encourage lawlessness, deny the efficiency of the courts and the power of constituted authority."

Ready For Arms Talk

France Willing To Negotiate With Hitler Through Ambassadors

Paris, France.—France is ready for arms talks directly with Chancellor Adolf Hitler of Germany through ambassadors, foreign office officials indicated, but all decisions, they think, must be made in consultation with others of the war-time allies.

Premier Mussolini's pressure to utilize the four-power peace pact signed by France, Germany, Italy and Great Britain, and the British disposition to mediate, it was said, tend toward direct negotiations because France is anxious to avoid little group meetings where she would be urged to sign on the dotted line.

Premiers May Meet

Victoria, B.C.—Premier T. D. Pattullo, of British Columbia, sent telegrams to Premier John Brocken, of Manitoba, Premier J. T. M. Anderson, of Saskatchewan, and Premier J. C. Brownlee, of Alberta, inviting them to meet here early in December to discuss relief and unemployment.

This Chalon Is Different

Toronto, Ont.—E. H. Nell appeared before the pensions commission here and asked for a pension increase for loss of his hair during the war. He claimed fever contracted in the trenches removed his hair. Nell maintained he should be recompensed for the cost of five wigs.

Stock Awards

Should Be Awarded On Basis Of Real Value

Toronto, Ont.—Unless prizes on the basis of real value are given, the purpose of agricultural exhibitions and the assistance given them by the federal government, said Hon. Robert Weir, Minister of Agriculture, in addressing a luncheon of exhibitors at the Royal Winter Fair here.

"For example, if two men sit up with a horse from midnight until the time he enters the ring, making one had look like the other good one, and the horse wins, it isn't the horse that wins, it is the two men who sat up with him," remarked the minister.

Mr. Weir said exhibitions should stress in their prize lists the importance of breeding qualities. Unless the get of a sire or dam showed some of the characteristics that made the sire or dam a prize winner, the awards were not made on a true standard basis, he said.

The federal minister addressed a distinguished gathering that included Hon. W. C. Buckle, Saskatchewan Minister of Agriculture, and Hon. George Hoadley, Minister of Agriculture for Alberta.

Fire At Indian School

Laundry And Hospital Of Alberta Institution Were Destroyed

Grouard, Alberta.—Fire, which broke out in a laundry room, destroyed the laundry, hospital and two adjoining classrooms at the St. Bernard Indian Settlement, a Roman Catholic institution near here.

School dormitories and the bishop's palace were saved by valiant work on the part of boys and girls and residents of the settlement, according to word reaching here. There was no loss of life.

Reverend Bishop Guy, in whose diocese the fire occurred, is receiving treatment at St. Boniface, Man.

Christmas Broadcast

Bells From Church Of The Nativity At Bethlehem To Be Heard

Ottawa, Ont.—The Canadian radio broadcasting commission arranged to co-operate with the British broadcasting corporation in its plans for an empire Christmas broadcast program. The program will include messages from Ottawa to other parts of the empire.

Under the revised plans of the British broadcasting corporation, one part of the empire broadcast will take place December 24. This will be a broadcast from Bethlehem of the bells of the Church of the Nativity. It will come through at 3 p.m., Eastern Standard Time, in Canada.

On Christmas Day the broadcast will start at 9 a.m. (E.S.T.), in Canada. The first 45 minutes will be largely taken up with a description of the celebration of Christmas in various parts of the old land. The following 15 minutes, until 10 a.m. (E.S.T.), will be occupied by messages of greeting from various parts of the empire.

Finally, from 10 to 10:05 a.m., there will be a message from Sandringham by His Majesty, the King.

The Canadian radio commission has arranged to bring the program to Canada by trans-Atlantic cable and will distribute it over its network wires to broadcasting stations in all parts of the country.

Alberta Pool Earnings

Figures Show Net Amount Of $179,054.64 For Year Ending July 15

Calgary, Alberta.—Operations of the Alberta Wheat Pool for the business year ending July 15 showed earnings of $97,948.88. It was reported to the annual meeting by R. D. Purdy, general manager.

Net earnings were $179,054.64, after providing $336,000.04 for depreciation and payment of $253,650 interest to the Alberta Government in connection with the 1929 overpayment.

Total holdings of the pool during the year were 488,390,660 bushels, showing an average of 105,233 bushels per elevator. In 1929 the amount handled by pool elevators was 91,411 bushels per elevator.

Settlement Plan

British Farmers May Be Established In Edmonton Area

Edmonton, Alberta.—Two or three group settlements of British farmers may be established in Edmonton district at no cost to the city, provincial or federal government, according to Brig.-Gen. M. L. Hornby, of Lethbridge, who is a visitor in the city. He is interviewing various authorities in regard to proposals for assisted British settlement.

The general said that no locations in Alberta had been selected as yet, although two locations had been approved in Manitoba and four in Saskatchewan.

COMMITTEE TO URGE FEDERAL MARKETING PLAN

Toronto, Ont.—Representing the agricultural interests of the Dominion, a committee was appointed by the Dominion-wide marketing conference to press for federal marketing legislation after the conference and passed a resolution calling for representations to the federal minister of agriculture.

The conference closed with the passing of the resolution.

The committee includes: A. Amos, president of the United Farmers' Co-operative Company, Limited, with R. H. Milliken, K.C., and H. B. Cowan, Peterborough, as chairman, secretary and assistant secretary respectively.

Western members are: W. Landreth, Winnipeg; A. H. Mercer, Vancouver; P. Roblin, Saskatoon.

The resolution urges the minister of agriculture to "forthwith cause to be prepared a farm products marketing measure which, insofar as federal legislative authority extends, will enable the producers of agricultural products in any part of Canada to take advantage of legislation that may be federal or provincial, embodying the principles of the British Agricultural Marketing Act and that such federal legislation, before enactment, shall be submitted to the committee appointed by this conference to promote the enactment of such legislation."

Imperial Co-Operation

Strong Policy Is Necessary To Overcome Difficulties

London, Eng.—"We must recognize that for the time being world co-operation is impossible, and concentrate upon devising ways whereby we of the British Empire can help ourselves to overcome immediate difficulties and get our people back into employment," declared Stanley Bruce, Australian high commissioner to Britain, in a speech before the Empire Industries Association.

Failure of world conferences and of world co-operation made a driving force embracing the whole Empire imperative, said the former Australian prime minister. He suggested creation of a small group of the best men available, to devote all their time to formulation of a strong resolute policy of imperial co-operation.

Obstacles to British trade have arisen in the form of prohibitions, quotas, and tariffs. Mr. Bruce went on, and the development of Japan, with her different standards of living had created a new problem. The paramount necessity at present was a strong policy of imperial co-operation, in his opinion. He suggested such a group as he mentioned might be provided over by a British cabinet minister, if that were deemed desirable.

Trade Is Doubled

South Africa's Special Agreement With B.C. Brings Results

Vancouver, B.C.—British Columbia trade with South Africa has almost doubled since the special trade agreement went into effect June 30 of this year, and most of the business has flowed through the port of Vancouver, according to a report just issued by the Vancouver board of harbor commissioners. In July, August and September, the values of the export this year was $2,066,000 as against $1,079,000 in the corresponding period of 1931.

Wheat Shipped To Churchill

Prince Albert, Sask.—Two million four hundred bushels of wheat have been drawn from this division of the Canadian National Railways and now are in storage in the Churchill elevator. The grain was supplied by the Saskatchewan wheat pool and will be shipped out by the Hudson Bay route next summer.

Went Efforts Continued

Edmonton, Alberta.—Expressing its approval by resolution that Canadian delegates to the League of Nations assembly went on record as being opposed to the private manufacture of armaments for profit, the fourth annual peace conference, in Edmonton, urged the government at Ottawa to continue its efforts in this direction.

DUKE OF ATHOLL CONVICTED OF BREAKING LAW

Here we see the Duke of Atholl (left), chatting with a police sergeant outside Bow Street Police Court in London, after he had answered a summons alleging an infringement of the Lotteries Act of 1926. The Duke conducted an Appeal Fund for British hospitals and issued tickets. He was found guilty and his conviction cost the 66-year-old Scottish peer a fine of £25 and court costs of 35 guineas, whereas his "appeal" took in $740,732, more than one-third of which was handed over to hospitals. The Duke will appeal the case in a higher court.

An "Old Favorites" Contest.

Our attention has been drawn to an interesting Contest just launched by the Family Herald and Weekly Star. $1500.00 are offered in Cash Prizes to those most successfully solving a set of picture puzzles.

Each puzzle picture illustrates the title of an "Old-Favorite" song, the object of the contest being to name each one of them correctly. A book featuring 1600 old Favorite Song titles has been compiled by the publishers. This book contains all of the songs which the puzzle pictures illustrate and a Poppy is given to every active contestant as an aid. The pictures are very cleverly drawn and provide interesting entertainment to those taking part. The nature of the Contest itself, as the name implies, brings back to mind those old familiar tunes which never seem to grow old and which recall memories of those happy days when they were the current musical hits.

Any of our readers will find it well worth while dropping a line to the Family Herald and Weekly Star, at Montreal, for full details of this Contest which will be gladly sent to anyone interested, along with a sample copy of the paper.

Marketing Grain Thru Poultry.

Marketing grain thru the poultry route would mean better than dollar wheat for the farmers who have poultry flocks, even at present poultry prices, according to the provincial poultry commissioner, in a recent bulletin on the finishing of poultry on the farm. A report of F. C.
Riford, dominion poultry husbandman, given at the world grain congress last summer, stated that experiments had shown that it takes 28 pounds of mixed grain, wheat, oats and barley, to grow a six and a-half pound-Barred Rock cockereil. In other words, four and a-half pounds of grain can be converted into one pound of chicken meat. On the basis of the present price of nine cents a pound for No. 1 chicken, 100 pounds of grain fed to good poultry for meat purposes would have a value of $1.93, or at the rate of $1.15 a bushel for wheat, 93c a bushel for barley, and 65c a bushel for oats.

Radio Spreads to Taxis.

Radio sets in private automobiles are common enough, but the first fleet of taxi cabs to be radio equipped has just been reported. A large number of taxi cabs sold by General Motors in New York City will be the first public hire vehicles to provide passengers with entertainment on the side, and you will be surprised what they'll be able to hear. For instance, one of the big broadcasting companies is planning to cover big news events with cars equipped for re-broadcasting. The taxi-cab rider will then be able to hear a broadcasting reporter in his armor-proofed transmitting car describing riots, fires and the like, direct from the scene.

An Aberdeen Joke

The Aberdeen Weekly: St. Peter, taking a stroll near the boundary line between heaven and the other place, noticed that a part of the boundary wall had crumbled away, and smoke was issuing from it. He called to the ruler of the nether regions, and an argument began as to who was liable for the repair of the wall.

Satan said he'd go and consult a lawyer. He departed, and when he got back he said he had got legal advice to the effect that he was not liable.

Saint Peter had to give in, because he could not consult a lawyer.

Decorative Radiator Caps.

Nude figures, Greek goddesses and long-necked birds whose distorted forms adorn the radiator caps of automobiles may soon disappear in Michigan if the recommendation of a coroner's jury is acted upon by the legislature. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty in the case of a driver whose radiator adornment pierced the chest of a 72 year-old man who suffered a punctured lung and died soon after the accident. The coroner said that a number of recent fatalities have resulted because of these decorative radiator caps on cars.

"Skulls or Skulle", whichever way they are spelt suits Georg Von Opel, who captured the Diamond Skulls at Henley, England, and who was a winner at Toronto, Canada, for he has just retired from a month of hunting south of Banff, world famous Canadian Pacific Rocky Mountain Resort, and has brought back with him some spectacular specimens of big game skulls. After looking for a two weeks' trip he found the sport so good that he increased it to six weeks.
Elk, moose, mule-deer, Rocky Mountain Goats, and Bighorn Sheep, he added to his collection while hunting south, but failed to get a grizzly. For two days he trailed one big fellow but the inclement and changeable weather met with, made success impossible. The grizzly, however, annoyed by the trailing, turned the tables on Georg by trailing the hunter to camp and stealing Georg's most prized goat head. Von Opel made the trip with Frank Phillips, famous Rocky Mountain guide. Picture shows Von Opel on the right.

SYNOPSIS

Camilla Hoyt, young and beautiful art student, and Peter Anson, a struggling sculptor, fall in love and marry secretly, deciding to live apart until the time Peter can establish himself. Camilla, the adopted daughter of wealthy parents, is not to inherit money when she comes of age. She is preparing herself for life with a course in commercial art. Peter, working in his studio on an idea for a figure with which he hopes to win a scholarship to study abroad, receives a call from a beautiful model, Sylvia Todd, who offers to work for almost nothing if he will employ her. He cannot afford a model, but promises to think it over.

(Now Go On With The Story)

CHAPTER XX.

When Sylvia Todd had gone, Peter paced the floor in agitation. Her visit had resurrected again that fondlest dream of his life—to study abroad with Despine and work at the Trocadero. Of course, entering the exhibit did not guarantee the opportunity, but he believed that he stood the chance with anyone. It was, at least, a chance.

But with his marriage to Camilla, he had put that hope aside resolutely. Should he win the scholarship, it would mean that he must take Camilla with him and support her, or leave her behind. He could not do the former and he would not do the latter. So he had convinced himself that there was little chance of his winning, and decided to devote his time to more remunerative pursuits.

Whether or not Camilla wanted him to feel responsible for her, he did, and he must see to it that he could take care of her soon. Furthermore, he had resolved that if art for art's sake did not begin to pay dividends, he would commercialize it.

But Sylvia Todd—beautiful girl—had stirred again that greatest ambition which he would have sacrificed to nothing in the world except his love for Camilla. He was restless all day, could not work in the studio. He went to the park after his class and wandered about aimlessly, thinking, debating what he should do. Perhaps if he entered the exhibit and lost, it would be the best thing for him, after all. He would have the satisfaction of knowing that he could not have gone abroad, anyway.

Headaches, Dizzy Spells

Mr. Jesse Smith of 42 Leppert St., St. Catharines, Ontario, suffered with inward trouble and dizziness for many years. He was unable to work and his nerves were so bad that he could not rest well at night. He was also troubled with headaches and dizzy spells. He had tried many remedies but nothing helped him. He was very weak and thin.

Favorite Prescription and it built me up wonderfully—strengthened my nerves and gave me back my health.

At least, he would be more settled and content.

Strangely enough, when he saw Camilla that same evening, it was she who introduced the subject that weighed most heavily upon his mind. "By the way, Peter, have you decided anything about your entry for the exhibit?" They had strolled to the park, where it was slightly cooler. The day had been oppressively warm and the studio stifling.

He started, as if she had struck him, for he was still revolving the "after" in his mind. "Funny you should ask that, when I've just been thinking about it all day."

"Why shouldn't you be thinking about it?" she asked, surprised.

"Because I had stopped thinking about it," quietly.

Camilla faced him. "Stopped thinking about it?" Why, Peter Anson! Since when?

He avoided her eyes. "Well, I thought I hadn't much show of winning and—"

"No one has better," she contradicted him.

"There will be more entrants than usual this year. The closer money is, the more there are who try for scholarships."

"And what if they do? Even if you should not win, you could lose nothing."

"And if I should win—" he hesitated.

A moment of poignant silence and then Camilla understood. "Is that what has troubled you? Oh, Peter, darling, why didn't you tell me?" she cried with consternation.

"But you know, dear, that you are much more important to me than the National Scholarship. Winning it would mean that I go to Paris for a year—and I couldn't take you with me."

"Why, Peter you 'have' to try for it. If you win—we'll manage somehow," bravely. "Oh, I never should have married you, Peter. Already, I am ruining your life."

"Please, Camilla, don't say that. Why, if you want me to try, I shall. But that doesn't mean I'll win, you know."

"And if you don't your work will attract attention—perhaps sell for a good price. Peter, what do sculptors get for their work? I haven't the slightest idea."

"And you married a sculptor?" he asked, amazed.

"I married the man I love."

"You darling! He drew her close into his embrace and rested his lips on the top of her fragrant hair, reverently.

"But you didn't answer my question," she insisted from the curve of his shoulder.

He laughed. "Well, the rewards of sculpture vary about as much as those of any profession of the arts. Much depends upon the needs and resources of the patron, the popularity of the artist and the critics. One jazz band can command thirty thousand a week while another is glad to accept one thousand. Their merits may or may not compare. It depends upon other conditions. Chester Dane did a piece of work last year that sold to the Water Galleries for forty thousand dollars. It was marvelous, of course, and I don't presume to be a Chester Dane—"

"You can be a Peter Anson, and that is better," she declared quickly. "Oh, Peter, you will be famous. Nothing can stop you."

Holding her in his arms, her words were so convincing that his hopes leaped to new heights and he was again sure of himself.

"Nothing shall," he vowed.

"Have you planned what you will do?"

"I had several ideas before I tried to stop thinking about it. What really got me going again was a model who came in this morning and wanted work. She said she heard I was entering the exhibit and needed one."

"You will, won't you?"

"Of course. But I don't see how I can afford—"

"You will have to manage somehow, Peter! I'll help you. I'm sure I shall find some work soon, and that will help both of us."

"So much, little lady. Aren't you refusing to let me take care of you? I'll do the same."

"But that's different," she objected. "That would not be taking care of you—it would be an investment in your future."

"The same circumstances by any other name would make me just as dependent. Now—I'll work it out some way, as I should have done without you. Wasn't that our plan and agreement?"

"All right," agreed Camilla. "And the model—will she do?"

"Couldn't be better," he replied. "Would you believe it, dear, the poor kid was hungry and had walked all the way from seventy-fifth street?"

"And you turned her away?"

"Say—what do you think I am—a Scrooge?" he laughed. "No, I gave her a dollar for some dinner and told her I'd let her know tomorrow if I could use her."

"A good start," she chided him. "You were pretty sure you would need her."

"No, I never would have decided if you had not urged me. I'm sorry I didn't talk it over with you before."

"Please always talk over everything with me, Peter, won't you? Isn't your interest mine, too?"

"Of course, forgive me, dear. But I thought I was protecting you in this."

"You must suppose I should have been very much grieved if I had discovered too late that I had kept you out of the exhibit?"

"I see your side of it now, yes. I'm sorry."

"There are always two sides to anything which concerns you and me, Peter. Remember that, won't you?" she pleaded anxiously.

"Always," he pledged, with a firm, hand clasp.

Presently, he said, "Now help me decide about the subject. Of course, a fountain idea is always good stuff. I don't dare to plan for more than one figure because I couldn't afford several models—"

"But you must not sacrifice success to a meager expense like that," Camilla objected vehemently. All her life, she had been accustomed to extravagance and luxury of the sort in which the Hoyts indulged, and this realization of what a little money could mean to an ambitious youth, appalled her. She rebelled at the ignominy of it.

"I don't think that will be necessary," he reassured her. "I had thought of making a full figure standing, wearing a draped tunic—madonna-like, pouring water from an urn into the upstretched hands of a child, with a smaller child kneeling below and catching the water again in its cupped hands, gleefully. Woman pouring out her life to youth."

"That would be beautiful," she exclaimed softly.

"But nudes always are favored," Peter continued. "Of course, they are more difficult, and should be. For such a figure I had an idea of youth symbolized as drinking eagerly of life—a girl poised on tiptoe and her hands holding to her lips a graceful chalice or a fluted shell—"

"That lovely, too, perhaps better than the other. You must decide. You do have marvelous ideas, darling."

"Have you something different to suggest dear?"

"I'm sure I couldn't improve on your ideas, if I thought about it for weeks. And I think this effort should be your own very own idea. I'd rather not interfere, but I'll do anything I can to help you if you will only tell me what it is."

"Just be your own dear self," he told her, with a new note of winged hope in his voice.

Little Helps For This Week

"Take no thought for your life, what ye shall eat or what ye shall drink, nor yet for your body what ye shall put on.—Matthew 6:25."

One there lives whose loving eye Guides our earthly destiny; One there lives, who Lord of all, Keeps His children lest they fall; Live we then in love and praise, Trusting Him through all our days, Free from doubt and faithless sorrow, God provideth for the morrow. —R. Heber

It has been well said that no man ever sank under the burden of the day. It is when tomorrow's burden is added to the burden of today that the weight is more than a man can bear. Do not carry this load at any time if you find yourself so loaded at least remember this, it is your own doing, not God's. He begs you to leave the future to Him and think only of the present.—G. MacDonald.

One evening when Luther saw a little bird perched on a tree to rest there for the night he said: "This little bird has had its supper and is now getting ready to go to sleep quite secure and content, never troubling itself what its food will be or where it will lodge tomorrow. Like David it abides under the shadow of the Almighty. It is content and lets God take care of it."

Going To South Africa

Government Invites Prince George To Pay Official Visit

Prince George has been officially invited by the Government of the Union of South Africa to visit that country during the early part of next year. His Majesty has approved of the visit, so that the Prince, under present arrangements, will sail from England about the middle of January. This will be Prince George's first visit to South Africa, although he has visited most of the other Colonies of the Empire. Many of his previous visits to foreign countries were paid when he was in the Navy. During that time he saw service with the Mediterranean and Atlantic Fleets, the China Squadron, and on the American and West India Station.

Farm Fire Insurance

Five-Year Average Shows Companies' Losses $1.19 For Every Dollar Premium

In 1931 insurance on farm properties cost Canadian fire insurance companies $1.33 for every dollar paid in premiums. That was a high year. Over a five-year period from 1927 the average losses paid on farm properties amounted to $1.19 for every dollar paid in premiums. These were not the worst risks—tangles, woolen mills, boot and shoe factories had decidedly higher losses—but they were in the unprofitable class by a big margin.

Famous Men Good Knitters

One Has Even Invented Special Wool-Winding Machine

The fact that the Prince of Wales recently sent a scarf he knitted himself to the Personal League of Service has caused a good deal of interest. His Royal Highness is, however, far from being the only celebrity who finds relaxation in a pair of knitting needles. Lord Jellicoe, like many other sailors, is an expert at knitting. Sir Evelyn De la Rue, of the famous printing family, is also an expert knitter, and even invented a special wool-winding machine for his own benefit.

Not So Far Wrong

A judge's little daughter, who had attended her father's court for the first time, was very much interested in the proceedings. After her return home she told her mother. "Papa made a speech, and several other men made speeches to 12 men who sat all together, and then these 12 men were put in a dark room to be developed."

ALBERTA'S OPPORTUNITY

in the

British Bacon Market

For the first time in history the World's Greatest Bacon Market has granted a definite quota to Canadian Bacon Producers, under Controlled Imports to Assure a Steady Market. Canada's quota is 290,000,000 pounds annually.

The Key to This Market is Quality

Alberta was second in 1932 among all provinces in total hog marketings, but only eight hogs in every 100 marketed were suitable for the British trade.

Not More Hogs, but Better Hogs

What is needed is not greater numbers, but a greater proportion of the Select Bacon Type required by the British Market.

Policies to Encourage Production of High Quality Bacon Hogs Suitable for Overseas, have been adopted by the Alberta Department of Agriculture in co-operation with the Federal Government, Railways and Packers. These include bonussing and exchange of off-type sows by the farmers for selected gilts from the packing plants.

The Showcase Case.

The case over the famous showcase, failed to materialize "last Tuesday. The Sun now learns that the young man in question was always ready to pay the sum of $15 in full settlement, but our worthy cafe proprietor held out for $20, and commenced action. The defendant had Mr. Bryan file a defence and pay the $15 into court. After making certain investigations Mr. Christie decided it would be better to take the $15, which he did, and discontinued his action.

Assault Case Dismissed.

At Magistrate J. McNulla's Court on Saturday a charge of assault against Mr. J. McDonald of Graminia, laid by Mr. G. Hennig of Golden Spike, was heard. Much conflicting evidence was given; at the conclusion of which the Magistrate dismissed the case with costs against the complainant, Hennig. Mike Bilinski, the fight promoter, has sent a postcard to each, inviting them to attend his next get-together party here.

Boxing and Wrestling.

Those who like to witness wrestling exhibitions got an eyeful at Moose Hall Friday night. The two to open proceedings were Winnychuk and Demchuk, and this pair for some 30 minutes tossed, and pushed and pulled at each other on the mat like as it were, a dismemberment conference.

The Carmichael brothers, Donald and Walt, were the two next on the mat, and for amateurs the boys gave a surprisingly good exhibition.

The boxing bout between Jackson and Sinner proved a very good "go," although the latter seemed outmanned in weight by his opponent, and, besides, two-minute bouts do not give good men a chance to show their stuff. The preliminary between two local boys proved a good one, and drew great applause from the gallery.

Christian Hennig Buried

The funeral of the late Christian Hennig took place on the afternoon of the 30th. A service was held at his late residence on the Highway, with a second service at St. Matthew's Lutheran church (Missouri synod). Rev. E. Eberhardt, the pastor, officiated. Interment was made in the St. Matthew's cemetery.

The pallbearers were the four sons of the deceased---Philip, Valentine, Jacob and John.

Deceased was born in Poland on March 10, 1850. He migrated to Chicago in the year 1896; and came to the Stony Plain district the year following.

He leaves to mourn his loss his wife; 5 sons, Ph. Hennig, Wembley, Valentine, Jacob, John and Emil, Stony Plain; 6 daughters, Mrs. Joe Ulmer, Wembley, Mrs. Louis Hennig of Chicago, Mrs. John Schram, Mrs. Jacob A. Baron, Mrs. Hy L. Kulak, Miss Lydia Hennig, Stony Plain.

Mrs. Jacob Ulmer and Mr. Philip Hennig, Wembley, came down for the funeral.

Stony Plain and District

The sale is reported of lot 10 block 7, Stony Plain, with a building thereon, formerly occupied by Mr. Spakman, implement agent. The price is said to have been $250.

Mr. Joe Kulak, the enterprising farmer of Rosenthal district, was receiving congratulations on Saturday last, it being the anniversary of his birth.

Teacher received her pay envelope and after extracting the money held it up for the class to see.

"What is this, Freddy Wilson?" she asked, by way of a general knowledge test.

"A pay envelope, Miss," said the boy.

"And what did it contain?" she went on.

"Money," said Freddy. "Your salary."

"Any further questions?" "Please, teacher," said a little boy who had been studying the envelope in silence. "where do you work?"
